Instruction on Behaviour

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

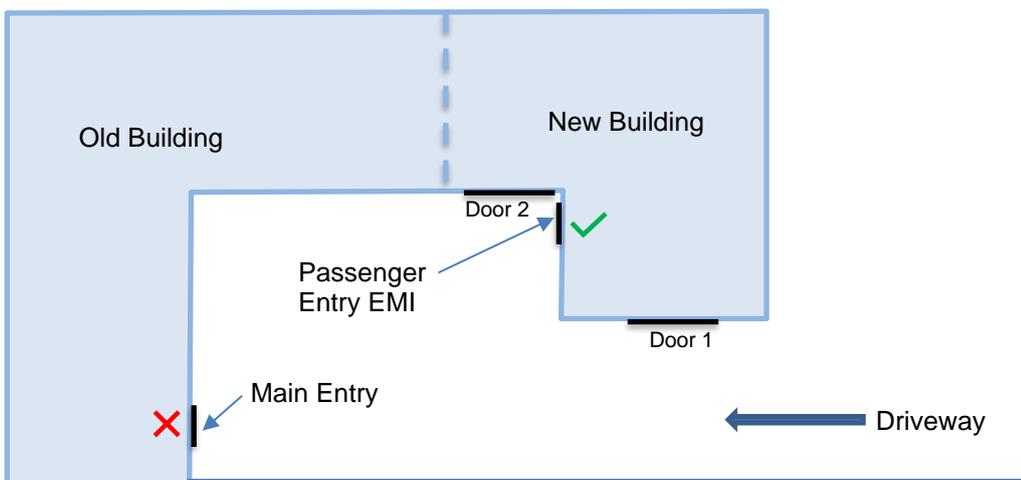

Due to the current situation regarding the Covid-19 (new type of SARS-CoV-2 virus), the following instruction applies from April 27, 2020 until it is lifted:

The EMC tests are preferably carried out without the customer being present. For this reason, it is necessary to create instructions for handling and function monitoring. Alternatively, these instructions can be given by telephone or video telephony.

If your participation during the test is essential, your presence in the vicinity of our employees is only permitted during commissioning or for function monitoring. A safety distance of at least 1.5 m from our employees is to be guaranteed, and mouth and nose protection must be worn.

A separate waiting area was set up for the rest of the time. If possible, the customer should have a personal mobile phone, so that our employees can reach you in the waiting area at any time.

The entrance to the EMC department in Wedel is not via our main entrance, but directly via the passenger door in the new building (doorbell available):

These regulations are to be understood as a risk reduction and for the protection of our employees and our customers, it is not a reaction due to an infection.

We thank you for your understanding and reserve the right to adapt these regulations to the current situation at any time.

Thank you
Best regards

Olaf Breitzkreuz      Dennis Moschik
(Managing Director)    (Head of EMC Laboratory)
